

Three Big Golf Tourneys to be Held in Week

Eldorado Sunburst First Play

More than a week of concentrated golf activities—including the First Annual Desert Circus Golf Tournament—is underway here today, with a host of celebrity golfers and golfing celebrities scheduled to take to the fairways.

The Desert Circus tourney, which will be held simultaneously on six area courses, will be augmented by two other outstanding links competitions.

At Eldorado Country Club, 160 golfers took to the greens today in Scotch foursome play, tuning up for the two-day Second Annual Sunburst Tournament competition Saturday and Sunday.

AND AT THUNDERBIRD Country Club, where the three-day "Out of This World" play begins next Thursday, golfers will take to the fairways beginning Monday in practice and tune-up rounds.

Eighteen holes of golf are scheduled for Sunburst play on Saturday and Sunday with prizes to be awarded poolside at Eldorado at 5 p.m. Sunday. Entrants include last years defending champions and such other luminaries as Ray Boiger, Bill Lundigan, Bing Crosby and Bob Serling.

MAYNARD LASWELL, chairman of the Thunderbird competition, said today that a practice round will be conducted Monday, a best-ball choose-up among four-somes will follow on Tuesday and a member-guest twosome competition, utilizing the Chapman system, will be conducted on Wednesday.

Social activities are also planned in conjunction with the tourney and will be detailed in the society section of the Desert Sun.

THE THREE-DAY "Out of This World" tournament will be a 36-hole member-guest affair with a galaxy of stars and famous personalities from throughout the nation participating.

The spread of the 36-hole play over a three-day span will eliminate part of the congestion that impeded last year's two-day tournament. Some players did not finish until after dark during the 1958 competition, Laswell said.

SCHEDULED to participate in the tourney are such personages as Desi Arnaz, Hoagy Carmichael, John Dawson, Bruce McCormick, Ammon Carter, Phil Harris, Paul Helms, Jr., Party Edman, Brig. Gen. Glendon Johnson, Dennis O'Keeffe, Fred Waring, Press Jenu-line and a host of others.

Laswell said that the list of golfers would include representatives of most of the 48 states, including golfers from Oklahoma, Minnesota, Illinois, Montana, New Mexico, Arizona, Missouri, Virginia, Indiana, Pennsylvania, Oregon, Nebraska, Connecticut, Colorado, South Dakota, Texas, New Jersey, Louisiana, New York and California.

Courses participating in the Desert Circus competition are Bermuda Dunes, Indian Wells, O'Donnell, Ranch Club, Tamarisk and Thunderbird.

East-West Thoroughfare Ready to Go

Final Land Grant Gives 'Green Light' To Road Construction

The long awaited "green light" for the construction of Tahquitz Drive through Section 14—Indian Reservation land—was given by acting city manager Shelby Langford today, after the final right-of-way was signed over to the city by Flora and Cruz Silva.

In what was described as one of the greatest co-operative negotiations between the Agua Caliente Indian Tribe and city officials, the final signature now makes it possible for the city to begin construction of the 100-foot divided street.

A HOLDUP in the negotiations came about over the location of the Cruz home in the center of the proposed Tahquitz Drive right-of-way. The city has agreed to move the home to a new location.

The people of Palm Springs passed a bond issue of $155,000 for the Tahquitz Drive improvement some four years ago. The City Council and city administration has been working steadily since then in obtaining rights-of-way.

ALONG WITH TRIBAL land included in the 100-foot right-of-way, the city had to negotiate with a total of 21 individual Indians, and without sufficient money in the bond fund to pay for rights-of-way, it was necessary to negotiate with the Indians for donation of individual parcels.

The city has approved C-b zoning for both sides of Tahquitz Drive over the full mile through Section 14, and the drive will become the major Palm Springs east-west street.

Construction on the street is expected to get under way as soon as plans and specifications are complete, possibly by mid-August or early September.

current Playhouse season, simply outdoes himself with some of the most cleverly-managed, easily-done intra-scene transitions I've seen anywhere, anytime.

Twenty-two people is a lot of cast for anyone's theater and—under most conditions—10 or 12 too many for the Playhouse's round stage. Ferrall not only makes you relatively unconscious of the mass of humanity that is teaming back and forth across the stage, but manages to keep as many as 16 of them (in the courtroom scene) on-stage at one time. It's a helluva job, impressively done.

THERE'S NOTHING like experience, however, and Winninger provides it in such king-sized portions that he not only delivers a beautifully-balanced rendering of the title role himself but also imbues everyone—all 21 of the supporters—with that same quality.

On Wednesday night, Winninger started one line—with Christy Palmer—four times before he got it out correctly. Did it stand as a faux pas? It did not. The venerable thespian deftly converted it from a goof into an integral part of his characterization of the booze-loving, yarn-spinning, "Lightnin'." He did it a couple of other times—blew lines that were seemingly irreplaceable and then converted the fluffs into an almost genius-inspired creation of the lovable character.

(Author Bacon played this role for years himself but if he had one ounce more heart for the part than Winninger does, it would be unbelievable.)

THE SIZE of the cast precludes a thorough definition of each actor and actress and since the program did not—as it said it did—list the performers "in order of appearance," some of the names escaped me. Ken Palatir, who played an unscrupulous lawyer with great gusto, was scheduled to appear third. He came on twelfth. William Hughes, who played the judge, was announced for fourth and arrived fifteenth.

Ferrall again proved himself a highly-skilled character actor as a nefarious real estate speculator, and Roy Baker portrayed a Scandinavian lumberjack with more than reasonable plausibility.

TWO DRAMATISTS make their debuts in the current Playhouse effort, Dan Flax as a crochety, lame prospector and Master Michael Hoffmeier, who follows his attractive mother about the stage in some several segments of the play.

Mrs. Hoffmeier reports that the youngster's dramatic workout has produced at least one good chuckle for her and the rest of the cast.

Young Michael was called out front by a viewer after the show Wednesday night and when he returned his mother asked him what had happened.

"It was somebody who wanted my autograph," the tyke said seriously.

"And did you give it to her?" quizzed Mrs. Hoffmeier.

"I told her I didn't have it with me," came the reply.

A NEWCOMER to the Playhouse this year, Claude Johnson again gave an impressive performance as young John Marvin. "Lightnin'" legal-minded benefactor. His love scene with Jennie Hecht in "Anne Frank" was one of the pleasures of that presentation and the young actor not only repeated that type of scene—with Miss Palmer—but also outdid himself throughout the balance of the play.

Johnson has marvelous potential in this business; he is able to read into each of his roles a certain amount of his own ideas, and—thus far in the season—has demonstrated that this combination means a highly palatable conception.

Christy Palmer does much better in melodrama than in straight comedy and Phyllis Flax has found another role that has her name etched clearly on it. She did, I thought, a superb piece of work opposite Winninger.

IN FACT, FOR sheer drama, for beauty of movement, for thoughtful delivery of lines, the Flax-Winninger combination in the courtroom during Act 2 will stand a lot of competition. It's not either one of them that stands out in that sequence. Instead, it's a combination of the pair—together as the characters that skillful work has created—that brings the emotion welling up within the viewer.

For total enjoyment, for a superb evening of entertainment, "Lightnin'" cannot be recommended too highly. It is theater at its best.

Sound Speaks Before Lions Meeting Here

Congressman D. S. Saund, representative from this, the 29th California District, told a large gathering at the meeting of Palm Springs Lions Club at the Chi Chi yesterday, that he would not vote for any equalization bill for tribal lands here unless it not only protected the Indians but also provided for an expanding economy for Palm Springs.

"And the best protection for the Indians," he said, "is a continuing, expanding economy for Palm Springs."

HIS TALK, BEFORE the Lions Club at an interclub meeting which saw many members of other Palm Springs service clubs present, touched mostly on world affairs and the issues before Congress.

The three biggest issues before the American people now, he said, are an expanding economy, full employment and greater production, otherwise the budget will never be balanced; and preparedness to meet the threat of communism and an opportunity for all of our young people to gain an education will be endangered.

Shelby Langford was program chairman for the day and introduced City Attorney Jerry Bunker who in turn introduced the speaker.

$10 Million Improvement Budget Set

Telephone Firm Plans $2,400,000 Fund for Desert

Contemplating the continued rapid growth in all the areas served by its Telephone Division, California Water & Telephone Company plans to spend a total of $10,400,000 expanding and improving its facilities. General Manager Peter A. Nenzel announced this week.

Of this amount, $3,500,000 will be spent on outside plant construction. Other major expenditures will be for central office equipment ($2,350,000) and special station apparatus and installations ($2,150,000).

IN THE PALM SPRINGS District, Manager Doak Davis announced that approximately $2,400,000 will be spent on improvements and extensions in Palm Springs and other desert exchanges.

Included in the company's expansion plans are new additions to central office buildings in Yucca Valley, Twenty-nine Palms and Palm Springs, which will total about $100,000.

NEW LINES and trunking additions will require approximately $325,000, and underground and aerial cable, wire and conduit additions will total close to $1,700,000. In addition, $350,000 will be spent for central office equipment and $435,000 for PBX and PABX equipment and station apparatus and installations.

During the past ten years, California Water & Telephone Company has spent more than $55,000,000 throughout its telephone districts, expanding and improving facilities in order to meet the tremendous demands for service.

Since 1948, telephone services in Palm Springs District have skyrocketed from 4,303 to 17,712 at the end of 1968.

COCKTAIL HOUR

Dear Abby...

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my aunt. She upsets my mother every time the phone rings and it's my aunt I know she has some more bad news. The only time she calls my mother is when she has news that somebody died or somebody is getting a divorce or somebody has cancer. I am only 14 years old but even I know better than to call up with only bad news all the time. Do you think I am old enough to tell my aunt in a courteous way next time I see her that I wish she would call up my mother just once in her life and make her feel good?

FOURTEEN
DEAR FOURTEEN: I don't advise 14-year-olds to criticize their elders, but your aunt could use a little common sense and convey good news occasionally. Perhaps an adult member of your family could make the helpful suggestion.

DEAR ABBY: I have been going with this boy (steady) a long time and we are very much in love. The only thing is he can't control himself. We plan to be married in three years. We hardly ever double date, which is the trouble. Abby, I want our marriage to have a clean start. He says a boy is different but I'm sure that by denying him I'm right. How can I convince him I am right? I am 16 and he is 20.

CONFUSED
DEAR CONFUSED: He KNOWS you are right. He is only trying to wear down your resistance. Insist on double-dating to reduce the temptation. A 16-year-old girl would be wise to re-evaluate her opinion of a man who encourages her to abandon her moral code. He's selfish, and a selfish suitor makes a poor husband.

DEAR ABBY: I wasted two years of my life going with a no-good louse. There isn't room enough in your column to print all the lowdown tricks he pulled on me. A girl I know (she works in the office I used to work in when I went with him) is now falling for his line, just like I did. I would like to tip her off to what kind of a bum he is, but wonder if you think she would appreciate the information? I hate to make a fool of myself.

EX-CHUMP
DEAR EX: Love is not only blind — it's deaf, by choice. If she's emotionally involved with him, your well-meaning advice would be about as welcome as a skunk at a garden party. She'd regard you as "a woman scorned"

An Amazing Statement By An Elected Official

D. S. Saund, elected to represent the people of this district in the House of Representatives, is quoted in a most astonishing statement, astonishing in that it was made by a man duly chosen by the people living in a nation devoted to free elections, free speech, a free press, a nation built on the concept of liberty.

His amazing statement, in effect, was that he saw an injustice in the fact that newspapers, subsidized by the government, can criticize publicly elected officials.

Now, let's take a look at this remarkable statement.

The other night in Riverside, Saund took it upon himself to lash out at the newspapers of his district. In venting his wrath upon them because they would not print his weekly newsletter from Washington, word for word, he rather indicated that the crazy mixed-up kids aren't all just to be found in Beatnik spots.

In his talk Saund defended his program of sending his Washington comments directly to thousands of his constituents under his free congressional mailing privilege. While, he said, he was paying for the paper, envelopes and printing, the government was mailing these reports under his franking permit.

In these reports—for which he pays not a cent for the mailing—he frequently presents his own opinions, criticizes the administration, criticizes publicly-elected officials.

But, he says, newspapers subsidized by the government should not criticize publicly elected officials.

By subsidy he meant the reduced mailing rate for newspapers. The newspapers, however are sharing the load. They are paying for their mailing. They are not free-loading on the post office department.

Congressman Saund is. He is not paying a penny for the thousands of pieces of mail in which he expresses personal opinions and criticisms.

Saund said he is sending his newsletter direct to his constituents, by the thousands, because so many newspapers of his district would not print them verbatim. So he takes to his franking privilege.

Any self-respecting newspaper reserves the right to edit any copy sent it, or to reject it outright. That applies to both advertising and news. A newspaper would soon be in a sorry mess if it, or to reject it outright. That applies submitted. We would be no more informed than the people behind the Iron Curtain.

The Desert Sun was not included in Saund's tirade. It might as well have been.

For The Desert Sun believes in freedom of speech, freedom of the press, liberty without license. And it backs whole-heartedly those newspapers of the Twenty-Ninth congressional district which have incurred Saund's wrath.

If Saund wants his comments and opinions printed verbatim, in endless columns of personal views, he should consult the advertising department. And even there he would have trouble if they did not meet the standard of good taste and fairness.

Nixon in Mid-Passage---2

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Vice President Richard Nixon must be considered the 1960 Republican nominee until proved otherwise. He is also owner of the best-known, most-forthright political record of all the presidential aspirants, Republican and Democrat alike.

This statement will surprise only those who, perhaps, have never thought about Nixon's positions on the issues, and those who have judged Nixon by anti-Nixon appraisals. But if Nixon runs for President next year, and if he scores an upset over the Democratic favorite, it will be because the nation has anticipated that a Nixon Administration would be somewhat as follows:

DOMESTIC AFFAIRS: Richard Nixon, if President, would follow the Eisenhower line of balanced budget and of finding enterprise substitutes for federal activities. Mr. Eisenhower calls this the "business approach." They would like for his efforts to encourage private electrical companies, group insurances, self-help housing and for his smaller appropriations for the Government's welfare projects.

Notable that under Nixon-business approach would be continued with betterment in the light of the experience. The Nixon philosophy of government could be called Progressive-Conservative. He does not believe, with one of us, in a return to fundamentalism. The Vice President holds that free enterprise offers the best chance for social and economic advances and that Federal enterprise bogs down in bureaucracy.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS: Richard Nixon, if President, would not substantially alter the Eisenhower reliance upon collective international security, but Nixon would move toward two reforms. In foreign aid, he would stress "how" rather than "how much."

indicating a major reevaluation, especially on the information programs.

The Vice President has been deeply impressed with Russian foreign relations workers wherever he has been able to observe them abroad. They know their enemy. Without leaning on IQ tests and postgraduate degrees, Nixon in the White House would have one main criterion for American overseas personnel: that they understand our fight against the enemy, international Communism.

In military policy Nixon, as chief executive, would strive for flexibility of strategy. Specifically, he would regard the increasing perfection of intercontinental Ballistic Missiles as a reason to reconsider the worth of American overseas bases.

LABOR LAWS: In watching the Senate at work, Nixon concludes that passage of an inadequate Labor bill, by which he means the Kennedy-Ervin measure, would raise a public clamor or in 1960 for something much stronger.

If the second session of the 86th Congress failed to produce a Labor bill with (a) fiduciary responsibility, (b) further protection of union democracy, (c) provisions against secondary boycott and organizational picketing, the 1960 campaign would be fought partly on the Labor issue. Nixon's prescription: that all unions follow the procedure which good unions already do follow.

CIVIL RIGHTS: "I believe in gradualism," Nixon told this reporter for quotation. "I would always expect progress, for example, in the Southern acceptance of school integration. But I would expect that this progress, its methods and its degree of compliance, would differ in different areas, according to the community customs and circumstances."

The Vice President's thinking on racial matters flows from two personal experiences. One, he was raised as a Quaker. Two, he has been around the world and he knows that at least one billion persons are not white. It is this reporter's educated guess that Nixon, as President, would be incapable of sending American troops against Americans.

WHITE HOUSE leadership: As Vice President, Nixon has given loyalty. As President, he would require it. He sees loyalty as the first responsibility of a Cabinet member, and even of a Vice President, although the latter case is complex.

It is revealing, however, that Nixon feels Vice President Calhoun, who disagreed violently with President Jackson, was justified in resigning. But the justification in Nixon's mind was strengthened by the fact that in the 1830's the presidential succession moved from the Vice President to the Secretary of State, thus keeping the top post firmly within the party.

Currently, Nixon feels that a Joint Chiefs of Staff member before a Congressional committee must (a) make a strong presentation of the Administration position, (b) give his personal opinion, if asked, (c) resign if he differs materially, with the Administration.

IN GENERAL: Richard Nixon, if President in 1961, would rely chiefly upon past experience, at home and abroad, in dealing with Communism. He would follow the Progressive-Conservative line, as expressed in the above-noted views, but not follow it stubbornly and inflexibly. Experience in these fields, of which Nixon has had more than any living American, would be the compass.

It is possible, I think, to forecast a Nixon Administration, but not possible with equal confidence to forecast the Administration of any Democratic candidate. If the nation should choose Nixon — and political upsets are within easy memory — the reason could be that the nation knows him best of all.

Quotes from the News

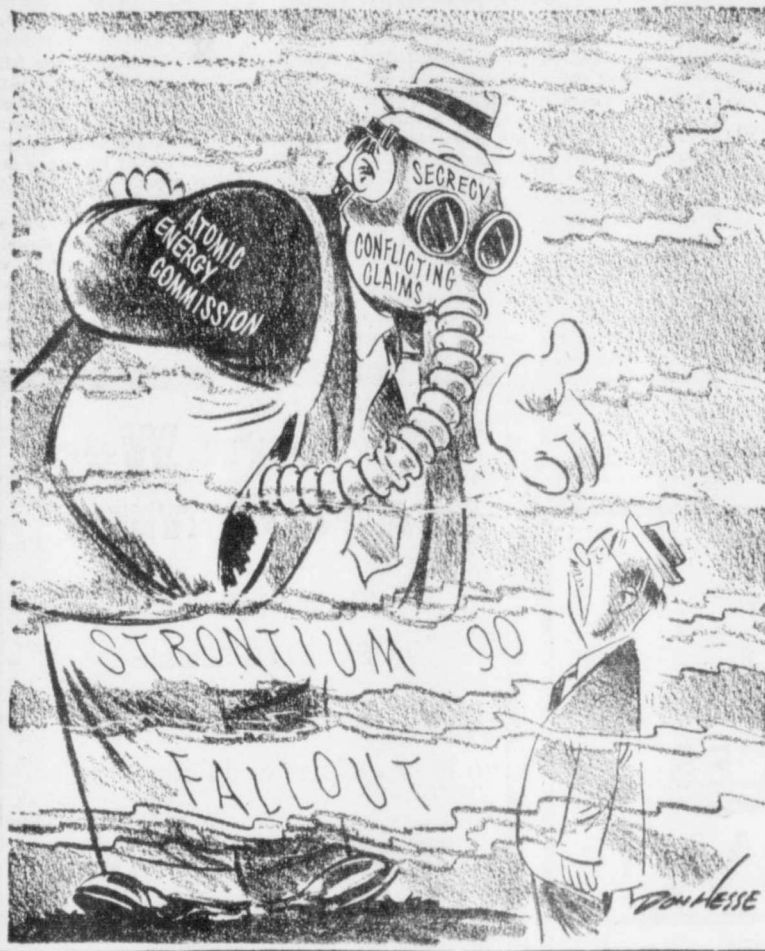

TOKYO — Lt. Col. Charles W. Platt, accused of bumping a number of GIs from a military plane so he could take his family on vacation:
"I am sorry that this happened. I do not feel that I was responsible for it."

NEW YORK — Howard J. Knox, reporting on his planned marriage to Christine Jorgensen:
"I have talked to my pastor and he sanctions the marriage."

KAILUA KONA, Hawaii — Nona

Beamer, dancer and member of an old Hawaiian family, reacting to a minister's criticism that some hulas are idolatrous:
"I do not see how an ancient art form or folk lore interferes in any way with Christian beliefs."

'I Tell You—There's Nothing to Worry About'

This Side of The Sun By Phat

While other people
Were popping their lids,
One Village man says—
He welcomed the kids.

With the vacationing kids back at their books in their classrooms, opinions of Villagers on their recent week in Palm Springs are varied.

WHILE THERE IS some complaint that the visiting youngsters raised what might be called hell, if you want to use that word, others claim that this year's influx was really well behaved and caused little trouble.

Supporting the latter school of thought is Waltha Clarke, well known gift and vacation-wear shopowner.

HE THINKS all of this furor about the visitation of the youngsters is a lot of hokum.

Clarke made the national press wires, UPI and AP, with his statement that "insinuations about students causing trouble and shop-lifting, are 'just a lot of bunk.'"

It makes me mad, he said, this thing about the kids doing all kinds of 'stuff'.

The adults are worse than the kids by a long shot, he added.

DURING THE Easter vacation week Clarke had a big sign in his Hawaiian shop window: "Welcome, Easter Vacation Kids."

Last year he had a similar sign on a billboard advertising his shop, on Highway 99.

ANYBODY HERE who ever lived in a sod house or dug-out, those unique dwellings so common on the prairies during the pioneer days? Or who have parents or grandparents who did while making their way west?

Ronald A. Thiel of Colby, Kansas, is engaged in research work on sod houses and has written The Sun for aid in locating any who know of the old days.

If you do, he can be reached at Colby, Kansas.

REMEMBER the Goofy Days when we had flagpole sitters, marathon dances and gimmicks like that?

So they were silly, eh? Have you been reading the public prints lately?

How about this current international competition to see which city can crowd the most people into a telephone booth?

I have trouble getting into one all by myself but since, in England 19 people made it in one booth, they are trying all over the world to beat it.

STAN DELAPLANE'S Postcard

Heavenly days but women get upset easily! A short time ago, we reported an airline stewardess' view of what airlines want in girls.

"United — the brainy type. TWA — intellectual, the type that wears horned-rim glasses. Western — the outdoor type."

Well, this has brought a flood of indignant mail. You would think I said it. I quote for example a TWA hostess based in Kansas City:

"Just give me the name of the doll that made that crack. That is all I ask!"

I THINK it is a curious thing that no American Airlines stewardesses objected to the analysis: "On American it doesn't matter if you don't have Brain One. If you're cute, they want you."

This classing of American Airlines girls did not dismay the American angels apparently.

TWA LADIES wrote in offering measurements. They defied me to find a pair of horn-rims in the house.

They intimated that American is hiding a good many secrets under a latex basket.

"All companies have a rule that stewardesses must wear goggles on flight. If American Airlines reversed that rule, you would be surprised. Where do you pick up this kind of information anyway?"

WELL, I HAVE just been picking up conversation. Not really information. When the flying angel says: "Coffee, tea or milk?" I usually ask a question or two myself.

This method was used by George Mookup in his monumental and valuable social study: "Airline Personnel Aloft and Below."

Professor Mookup made a thorough study of the airline stewardesses.

(It was done with great difficulty. Mrs. Mookup objected strenuously.)

Mookup discovered that stewardesses would often like to throttle their passengers.

"IN AN INTENSIVE study of Miss Blank, flying out of Chicago (with a layover in Detroit)," reports Mookup, "we found her muttering to each departing passenger: 'Drop dead.' The lady had an appealing company smile. And the words were uttered in such a low and friendly voice, that passengers often did not get the import until they were claiming their baggage."

Mookup followed a number of passengers to the baggage stand. He reports they fumbled for their tickets and frowned, saying: "What did that doll say? The one at the door. With the eye shadow."

MOCKUP WAS entering the second volume of his study — "Stewardesses Are Human Beings Too" — when he was hit over the head by an enraged Continental stewardess with a short temper.

(She did not hit him with the temper, naturally. She hit him with a stainless serving tray.)

"Him and his nasty little beady eyes," she told the airport police who removed Mookup to the local hospital.

This ended a great sociological study. And the world is poorer for it.

I THINK THE MAIL is interesting, too, that some Western stewardesses object to being called "outdoor types" — the scrubbed look.

"If you would keep your eyes open, you would find just as many glamorous girls on our line as any American flight personnel," one of them writes. "We have brains too. And we don't have to wear horned-rim glasses to prove it."

The whole thing — and all I did was report a little innocent chatter. The whole thing seems to have enraged everybody. The ones who were called scrubbed want to be called smart. The ones called smart want to be called cute.

What I have always suspected about flight ladies. Fluggity. Let me be the last to say it.

EARL WILSON:

How to 'Marilyn a Millionaire'

NEW YORK — A gag is coming true: a fellow could love Marilyn Monroe for her money. She'll wiggle off with $1 million to $2 million from "Some Like It Hot" (she gets 10 per cent of the world gross) — her first big loot. Her next'll be "Time and Tide," based on the TV story "Mud on the Stars," Ella Kazan directing. She's been told to report at 20th in Hollywood Apr. 14.

"Some Like It Hot" is not only an artistic and commercial smash—it's banned in Kansas because of an MM-Tony Curtis love scene on a yacht. I found out who poured Marilyn into her skin-tight gown for the NY premiere: John Moore, designer for the Matty Talmack dress house on 7th Av. He's done the pouring so often, when some shivering unclad beauty steps into a gown, that he's quite blasé. Never looks at the girl—only at the dress.

No, he doesn't need any assistants. I already applied.

Greta Garbo dined with producer Sam Spiegel at Trader Vic's — and the rumors spread that Sam's trying to lure her into his Liz Taylor picture, "Suddenly Last Summer." (Gee, Sam, "Suddenly Last Summer" sounds just like the Liz-Eddie Fisher story!)

Jack Benny — conferring here on his deal to alternate with George Gobel — hopes it'll be Sunday night at 10... Sen. Cavanaugh called all over to get fix for his dir. to see the Dick Clark show... Charlie Weaver's book, "Letters from Mamma," is sure corny, but I love it. Most sophisticated joke: "We're having a lot of trouble with two chickens. They get at either end of the yard, run at each other as fast as they can, just missing each other. I guess they must be playing People."

Gloria Swanson's 60th birthday speech at Earl Blackwell's party at the Lobster Cellar was not only tender ("May I say it is not quite as frightening as it seems? I can only hope that when all of you get to my age you will be able to brag about all the things I've bragged about — I've missed nothing") but funny: "I hope some of my contemporaries will catch up with me!"

After saying she owed all her happiness to the picture business, she added: "What am I supposed to cut this cake with—my fingernail." Later Miss Swanson asked quite logically, "What is this thing about my bay? Every time I have a birthday, everybody else has one."

Far from retired, she's got Show Biz plans she's too superstitious to discuss.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL... Audrey Meadows' new guy is handsome Jerry Herzfeld, who has that racetrack bundle and gets the best table at El Morocco... Jayne Meadows continues in "Gazebo" until June 28—though her husband Steve Allen does his last N.Y. TV show June 7 and goes on ahead to Los Angeles to do the moving... Faye Emerson's around with a spanish bean; Enrique Anolas.

Zsa Zsa Gabor's most recent former flame, Hal Hayes, is back dating Pat Wymore (Mrs. Errol Flynn)... A doctor rushed backstage at the Ed Sullivan TV'er to treat a stunt man, gashed in the Richard ("Have Gun") Boone skit... General Motors wants Gwen ("Redhead") Verdon to do four TV spectaculars in two years... Two owners of a plush east side cafe have told the third to quit boozing—or just quit.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Definition of a henpecked husband: "He controls his wife the way a weather vane controls the weather."

There are two kinds of husbands, says J. B. Clark of WBTV, Charlotte. One brings his wife a gift when returning from the convention. The other one behaved himself... That's earl, brother.

MIKE CONNOLLY:

Actress Bars Mother

HOLLYWOOD — Pretty little Sandra Dee barred her mother, Mary Doonan, from the set of "A Summer Place" at Warner Bros. during a scene in which her movie mother, Constance Ford, accused her of having an affair with her movie boy friend, Troy Donahue.

But Sandra okayed her mother's presence on the set during the teenager's red-hot love scene with Troy. Sandra's explanation: "I don't mind her watching me make love but I love her too much to let her see me suffer when Constance bawls me out!"

Terry Moore takes over the part that Diane Varsi vacated opposite Gary Crosby in "A Private Affair" at Fox.

TONY CURTIS dresses like a girl in "Some Like It Hot" but he couldn't talk like a girl. That voice of Tony's on the soundtrack isn't his at all. It isn't a girl's either. The falsetto was dubbed by another actor, Paul Frees.

Silent screen star Jackie Coogan lost out on a talking part in MGM's "Boys Town" sequel, "Girls Town." He was already to start but a ruptured blood vessel in his nose threw him out of the picture and into St. John's Hospital.

"Three Came to Kill," Cam Mitchell's new movie for United Artists, is a gangster picture but it isn't located in Chicago — for a change! This one is based on Gotham's Anastasia killing.

Joe E. Brown wonders if you heard about the concited actor who woke up screaming — he dreamed he was somebody else!

BING CROSBY will do a "surprise" guest shot as one of the billionaires in Fox's "The Billionaire" — opposite himself! You'll see Der Bingle in a dual role, teaching himself how to sing.

Paramount's papajandrum turned apocalyptic over Tina Louise's nude posings in this month's Playboy Magazine. They are now clamping down on their starlet's extra-curricular gossamer with the flip-top-type photos!

Producer Hal Bartlett and Argentine actress Anna Maria Lynch will wed when his divorce from one-time singing star Lois Butler is final Dec. 4. Lois, who made her mark back in the mid-'40s as a star for the defunct Eagle-Lion Studios, will resume her career.

A CHURCH group took over the Hollywood Paramount Theatre mornings only during Easter Week ("Imitation of Life" is showing there afternoons and evenings). The group held screenings of "The King of Kings" — all admission free! — and the theatre had wall-to-wall customers for the religious picture, to everybody's amazement, every day. Kicker being that it's a silent movie, produced way back in 1927, by the late Cecil B. DeMille.

him, "How does one get started in Hollywood?" Nat replied, "Well, first you have to have something to offer."

CHANNEL CHATTER — Red Skelton's next CBSec will be filmed in Mexico — with the hard-to-get Mexican star of "Around the World in 80 Days," Cantinflas, co-starring. Cantinflas, Mexico's greatest clown, asked to do it because, said he, "Red Skelton is the United States' greatest clown."

Big Jim Arness's first big movie since he Gunsmoked himself onto the right side of all the Trendex tracks will be "The Alamo" with Big John Wayne.

Jim Garner will play Jim Garner in the "Downbeat" segment of the 77 Sunset Strip series, now shooting.

David Janssen says he met a TV producer whose interest is in the underdog — he wants to KEEP them under!

DESILU PUT stripteaser Rusty Lane on his payroll for "The Untouchables." Desi-Lacy's two-part telepic about Al Capone, Miss Lane is teaching Barbara Nichols the rudiments for her role as a stripper, while the muted piccolos and double bassoon blow a bluesy "Honey-suckle Rose."

Dale Robertson roped 12 rodeo dates during his summer vacation from the Tales of Wells Fargo series, including LaForte, Ind., Millerville, Ill., Flint, Mich., Columbus, Ohio and Fort Madison and Sidney Ia.

ADD TVCATIONS: John Russell will spend his holiday away from the Lawman series making a movie, "Yellowstone Kelly," with Clint Walker, also vacationing — from Cheyenne.

Another comic strip hits the telebeam this summer when "Archie" gets filmed by Ted Lloyd and John Goldwater as a half-hour series, The Adventures of Archie Andrews.

Pilot films for two projected series will get on-the-beam "try-outs" in the final weeks of Lux Playhouse's current season. You'll see the pilot for Giselle MacKenzie's new Bringing Up Katy series on the Lux beam June 12 and Jackie Cooper's pilot for his Hennessy series June 26 — just like going to a sneak preview of a new movie in Glendale!

WALT DISNEY is demanding an arbitration hearing with the Motion Picture Producers' Association over Harold Hecht's plans to film a movie, "The Life of Technocracy." Walt claims he has prior rights to it because he has already shot a telefilm with the same title for his Disney Presents TV show.

Asked how come all the bloodshed in "One-Eyed Jacks," when he horsewhipped Marion Brando in one of the most knock-down-drag-out bloodletting sequences ever filmed, Karl Malden explained: "We're aiming for a big audience — sadists!"

Palm Springs on Highway 111

Friday night was the "Welcome" party for Dottie and Art Todd. There were many of their old friends at Shadow Mountain Club, dining and dancing. Seen here and there were the Telford Thronsons, Charles Millikens, Boynton Jones, Robert Brooks, Tom Browns, Ed Welcomes, Cliff Ives, Herbert Shaws, L. G. Bairds, Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Cockerill, Hal Knapps, Floyd Mitchells, Wilber Bears, Ralph Caplingers, Major Slaters, Robert Sturgeons, Wallace Henrys, Dan Potters, June Crocker and many more.

The "Easter Bonnet Parade" on the terrace at Shadow Mountain Club for children and parents was the usual enjoyable affair. The prize winners were Diane Waterman, Kathy Sosoka, for the girls singles; "doubles" were Sheila Nelson and Michael Attayan. "triolets," Chris, David and Janice Fletcher, "mother and daughter" Mrs. Ted Crane and daughter, Renee, "father and son" Ralph Hale and Ralph, Jr.

A large group of members, with their families and guests were on hand to see this annual parade. Among them were the Richard Kites with ten of their family, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gokey with their three children, the Stephen Chases, with their daughter, Nancy, and granddaughter, Mrs. Harlan Peyton with her son, Commander J. W. Roberts and his wife and two daughters, Cheryl Ann and Kerry from Miramar, the Carl Hendersons and Mrs. Henderson's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Walker Scott. These happy people are bride and groom of a few days. Mrs. Scott was the former Mrs. Williams, well known here. Mrs. "Bobbie" Reichert, Charlotte Steward, Kay Olesens, Ira Johnsons, Layton Watermans, and many more were Easter diners.

Cocktail Party,
Buffet Honors
Houseguests

LA QUINTA — Easter eggs, bunnies and candlelight provided a charming background for the cocktail party and buffet hosted by Mrs. Emmett Gurley at her Palm View ranch home in La Quinta.

The party honored out-of-town guests, Mrs. Glenn Gurley of Ely, Nev., Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Fisher of San Jose and Mrs. Violet Lubdorff and Mrs. Carma Langon of Oakland.

Guests were entertained by violin and piano music by "The Iversons" of Cathedral City, and by the songs of popular Phila Bedford.

Among those present were Mrs. and Messrs. Fletcher Delk, Duke Atterbury, Dick Stargrant, O'Farr Roen, John Gurley, Bob Bedford, Kay Oleson, Bob Wilson and Mr. Don Brooks. Miss Nancy Marshall, Mrs. Elizabeth Trevasant, Mrs. Olive Dyna, Mrs. Louis Hartmann and Mrs. Evelyn Sah-

Annual Flower Show This Month

Cielo Vista Prepares for Country Fair

Parents, teachers and children at Cielo Vista School are caught up in festive preparations for the annual Country Fair, which will be held April 11, from 5:30 to 9 p.m.

Mrs. Don Binkerd is chairman of the Fair, which is sponsored each year by the Cielo Vista P.T.A. Food booths will offer hamburgers and hot dogs, tacos, green salads, home made pies and cakes, iced soda pop and hot coffee. There will be exciting game booths and others will offer hand made fancy work, including aprons and pot holders.

It will be fun for the whole family, Mrs. Binkerd and her committee promise.

Matinee and Barbecue for 12th Birthday

A matinee party was followed by a barbecue Saturday, when Bob Mathews, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Mathews celebrated his 12th birthday.

Following the matinee, Bob and his guests returned to the family home at 31-870 La Paloma, to enjoy games of shuffleboard, bowling and a lively pingpong tournament.

The patio barbecue ended with a birthday cake, decorated in the Easter motif.

Wishing Bob "Happy Birthday" were Steve Bergeron, Eddie Dunne, David Nicollet, Bob Cecil, Dan Knowlton, Jeff Palmer, Ronnie Redd and Duke Patane.

Starts Studies At Stanford

Delores Smith who has been employed by O'Donnell Golf Course as secretary for her fourth consecutive season, left Sunday with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. F. Smith for Tacoma, to attend spring quarter at Stanford University where she will study for her Bachelor of Science degree.

For Easter the Smiths were the houseguests of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Smith of 332 Pablo Drive where Delores resided while she was here.

Gardens are blossoming all over the village. It's springtime and the Garden Club is getting ready to stage its annual Flower Show.

The 1959 Flower Show will be held on Saturday, April 11, at the Desert Museum. Doors will be open to the public from 1 to 9 p.m., with no charge for admission.

This year's show promises to be the most beautiful in the eleven years these Garden Club Shows have been held, coming as it does, at the height of the flowering season when all the desert area garden enthusiasts have products they are proud of.

The Show should be of particular interest to new home owners because it gives visual proof of the flowers and produce which can be grown under desert conditions.

It should also be interesting to all gardeners in the area since anyone may enter arrangements or specimens in competition. It is not necessary to be a Garden Club member to enter anything you have grown in your desert garden or any arrangement of desert grown flowers you may wish to make.

Mrs. Douglas Waldron and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Willard of Indio are the certified judges who will pass on all entries and will award ribbons.

The awards will be made before the opening of the show to the general public so that award ribbons will be in place when the doors open at 1 p.m.

Couple Move to San Diego

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Dreyfus, who have lived at 265 Lugo Road the past few years, left for San Diego Tuesday where they have taken up permanent residence.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Jensen of 2670 Livmore Avenue, are the parents of a nine pound, eleven ounce son, born April 1, at Desert Hospital at 8:36 a.m.

After removing the last load from a clothes dryer, leave the door ajar or run the dryer about five minutes.

Idaho Visitors Return Home

Two Idaho visitors, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Rice, this week ended a three week visit in Palm Springs, heading for their home in St. Anthony by way of Phoenix and Salt Lake.

In Palm Springs, the Rices were guests of Dr. and Mrs. L. R. Choquette of 1524 Via Salida. During their stay here, they made side trips to Riverside, Redlands, Arcadia and Long Beach.

Transfer Brings Farrers Here For Short Visit

Sgt. and Mrs. Duane K. Farrer (she's the former Lorraine H. Crist of Palm Springs) and their two daughters Linda Sue and Lorraine Lynne, spent a few days in Palm Springs with their friends the M. G. Maloufs of Thornhill Road.

Sgt. Farrer, who has been stationed in Seattle at the Marine Corps Naval Air Station, has been transferred to the Marine Supply Center at Barstow, and the family was en route to their new home.

Fancy Dessert Is Low Calorie

Low-calorie maple mousse is a good dessert.

Sprinkle 1 envelope unflavored gelatin on 1/2 cup cold water in saucepan to soften. Place over medium heat, stirring constantly, until gelatin dissolves. Remove from heat, add 1 cup ice-cold evaporated milk, 1/2 teaspoon maple flavoring, 2 teaspoons liquid sweetener, 1/4 teaspoon salt and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Chill until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from spoon.

Pour 1 cup evaporated milk into refrigerator tray, freeze until ice crystals form around edges. Turn into chilled bowl and whip at high speed until stiff. Fold into gelatin mixture, turn into 5-cup mold and chill until firm. Makes 6 100-calorie servings.

If food burns an enamelware utensil, shake soda into it, add cold water and let it stand awhile.

Bratneys Move Back to Home

The Walter Bratneys, who leased their North Cahuilla house this winter to Mr. and Mrs. S. Phillips of Minneapolis, and have been living in their Caliente house, moved back on to North Cahuilla this week, when the Phillips ended their Palm Springs vacation and flew home. The Bratneys will be here until summer when they go north to Pebble Beach.

Circus atmosphere will predominate at Thunderbird tonight... for the Big Top Ball... top social event of Desert Circus Week... and the bright blue, red, yellow and white of Colorado's flag will inspire the decorations... that have transformed a swank Country Club into one mammoth circus tent... The Governors of two great states... Circus officials... Hollywood celebrities... visiting Coloradans and Palm Springs elite... in glittering western outfits... or in picturesque circus garb... will be pouring into the Big Top... and tonight the audience itself will be the big show... a bit of brilliant pageantry... that will set a new mark for Palm Springs social events...

Car boys will be dressed as circus roustabouts... and as the arriving guests descend from their car... the din of the callopie will greet them... colored lights will blaze above a circus tent entrance... and circus animals (courtesy of Paramount wardrobe department) will be prowling about...

Inside the entire club has been transformed into a pseudo striped tent... There's no side show... but guests will be stopping in the lounge... to view the exhibit of Palette Club paintings... which are displayed for bids... Also on display in the Club will be the original Desert Circus cartoon... from the "Our Dames" series by Shaw-Poind... that appeared in last Thursday's Desert Sun... Mounted on pink velvet and in a jeweled frame... it is for sale to benefit Desert Circus...

Earl Cordrey has done a tremendous tri-dimensional backdrop for the stage in the pavilion... featuring Pike's Peak being lassoed by a California cow girl... it has oil wells, rainbow trout and a columbine attached to it... Cordrey caricatures of the two Governors will be on the diningroom walls...

Tables will be spread with white cloths... with a bright blue stripe down the middle... blue napkins... red and yellow containers filled with white carnations flown here from Colorado... Tiny State flags will adorn each centerpiece... Decorations are the work of Marcia Barrett and her committee... Jane Wade, Veva Selig and Wrenn Tevis...

The table for the Governors is set up on the lounge side of the pavilion and has five tables for 25 each... stemming from it... With the Governors and their wives will be... former Colorado Governor and Mrs. Dan Thornton... Mayor and Mrs. Frank Borgert, Circus Queen Shirley Temple and her husband Charles Black...

President of Desert Circus Jimmy Morton and his date Georgia Poston... Desert Circus chairman June Clark (first woman to head Desert Circus since Nellie Coffman in 1935)... and her husband J. Ross Clark... and the Herman Ridders... who hosted last night's reception for the two Governors...

Mrs. R. R. Hall will hostess one of the tables for 25... and this all-Colorado group will include High Sheriff Robert Six... Messrs. and Mmes. Brown Cannon, George Cannon, Charles O'Toole, Robert Selig, Walter Stalder, William Tutts, J. E. Manning, R. L. Manning, the Barnharts... Miss Jean Laver, Frank Burns, and a few others...

R. R. Hall will be host at another of the tables for 25... with Mr. and Mrs. James Tuma helping him make the following group of Coloradans feel at home... Messrs. and Mmes. William Burkhardt, Corbin Douglas, John Mullins, Henry Schwalbe, Leo Sullivan, Lewis Hayden, the Prices... Mrs. Gladys Barwise, Miss Pat Collins, Henry Golightly...

Mark Kramer, one of Sheriff Six's Six Men, heads another table for 25... which include Winsome Courtney, Grand Marshal and Mrs. John Payne, Six Man Charles Bucks, the Four Golden Jets... Betty Flood, Devonne Hubka, Judy Johnson, Carolyn McGirr... Messrs. and Mmes. Harding Lawrence, W. Baker, Howard Merrill, Frank Ricketson, Art Bazata... Sgt. Dale High, Robert Lofito... the Kozaks and McGees...

The Chauncey Needhams head one of the tables of 25... with the Governor's brother William McNichols and his wife and mother at this table... which also include the W. A. Moncriefs, Victor Hugo-Vidals, Leonard DeLues... Mr. and Mrs. Bill Higgins, Nat Dumonts, Dan Ridders, the Bill Iversons... and Coloradans Larry Skutt, L. M. Pextons, Donald Robertsons, the Hirschfelds...

At the table hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Earl Buckingham will be... the Pollard Simons, Milt Hicks, Jimmy Rogers, the Dolph Oberfelds... Ed Crowley, B. J. Sanchez, Pierre Bouscaren, Judge and Mrs. James Garibaldi... the Joe Healeys, Hoagy Carmichael, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Woods... Beth Scott...

The Joe Dyers' table will include the Ralph Singers, Zach Brinkerhoffs, Joe Froggatts, Joan Winchell... and Coloradans Samuel Butlers, Fred Newtons, Nicholas Petries, Bruce Hambyss, Benjamin Stapletons, Mr. and Mrs. John Gulich...

Ray Ryan's guests will be... the Clarke Gables, Patti Page and Charles O'Curran, Bill Holden... and Jimmy Van Heusen, Tony Burkes, Joe Glasons, Bill Crawford...

With Lou Manseau (she's had a week with table reservations)... the Eric Staintons, Kent Hayes, Barney Hinkles, Bob Kenastons... Clarence Browns, Robert Walkers, Fred Waring, Mrs. Marion Hale, Marj Pohl...

With Mr. and Mrs. David Margolis will be Jack Dempsey, Elsinore Machris, John Haskell... the Lloyd Franks, Joe Grabiners, Abe Lipseys...

Eldorado has a table for 24 and Indian Wells one for 22... Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Oakes, Clarke Swansons, Harry Joe Browns, George Barretts, Walter Crutendens, Ellsworth Vines, Trudy and Paul Reynolds... all have tables of 14 to 20...

Others hosting guests include Bucky Harris from Las Vegas, Ed McCoubrey, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Meyers, Louise Nicoletti, the Ed Rothbarts...

Among others who will be attending the Big Top will be Jolie Gabor and husband Edmund Deszgetti, Madga and Tony Gallucino... Mrs. Austin McManus, Alice Faye and Phil Harris, and many, many more...

It will be a big night at the Big Top... and tomorrow bright and early most of this festive crowd... will be riding in or watching the parade...

San Franciscan Ends Visit Here

Mrs. Cleo Felsingher has returned to her home in San Francisco after spending two weeks at the South Calle Marcus home of her cousin, Mrs. Jack Copass. While here she was entertained at a luncheon at the Tennis Club with guests including Mrs. Harry Grimm, Dudley Carter and Mrs. Beth Grant, Mrs. Copass and Mrs. Felsingher were guests of Mrs. Grant at the Palm Desert Women's Club luncheon and meeting held at Shadow Mountain Club.

Other activities included a luncheon of the Rachel Circle of Palm Springs Community Church, Easter Brunch at El Mirador and the Hat Parade at the Tennis Club. Mrs. Felsingher is past president of Soroptimist Club of San Francisco and a retired executive of Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

"COLORADO," that new hit tune, written for Desert Circus Week by tune maker Hoagy Carmichael (the one with "Stardust" in his "Old Butter-milk Sky") is one that will be played at the Big Top Ball tonight at Thunderbird. There will be continuous music with Howard Manor's Murray Arnold and Raquet Club's Teddy Noele, moving their orchestras on and off stage. Trying out the new tune, is composer Hoagy Carmichael, seated in front of the piano with Murray Arnold, right, and standing, from left, Mrs. Joe Dyer, Teddy Noele and Mrs. Earl Buckingham. The two women are vice chairman for the Ball. (Anderson Photo) that the combination of chemistry with cotton is having a revolutionary effect in American homes. So much so, that the ironing board may be on its last legs. The textile industry is turning out wash-and-wear (or chemically processed) cotton fabrics at the rate of two billion yards a year. The total is greater than the combined production of fabrics made from all the newer man-made fibers, Nelson Getchell, technical director of the National Cotton Council, told a New York board of trade textile seminar.

Getchell said the "wash - wear" trend is fast developing to the point where a majority of washables in many families may soon be of the easy care type. Just what all we women need... a shower head that produces fragrant water. The gadget (from Elizabeth Arden) has a small trap door in its plastic and chrome body, through which special perfumed pellets are inserted. Turn on the top, and the pellet "whirls into action, releasing a cleansing spray of softened water, lightly scented," said the maker.

For the man around the house, the manufacturer says relax—the fragrance vanishes with a clear rinse water.

MAY BE BOBBY'S COMEBACK YEAR

Shantz Hopeful Luck Has Changed at Last

By OSCAR FRALEY United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—There's new hope of Bobby Shantz today despite the admission that seven innings don't make a season.

Little Bobby has been through six years in which he ranged from utter desolation to mediocre misery. And this had been just another lackluster spring for the mite who was the American League's Most Valuable Player in 1952.

Until this week, SHANTZ HADN'T been looking good, or even fair. At one stage the New York Yankees sent him back from an exhibition trip so that he could be given more work at their St. Petersburg, Fla., base. There he had one good stint against minor league opposition but Bobby brushed it off with the discouraged remark that "anybody should beat those kind of hitters."

Everything looks brighter since Monday, however, when he went seven furlong shutouts against the power-packed Cincinnati Reds. "And what's even more encouraging," glows the 5-foot, 6-inch southpaw, "I could easily have gone nine."

IT WAS a satisfying performance all around, for the tiny hard luck guy in particular and the Yankees in general. Because Shantz is the only left hander in addition to Whitey Ford on the Yankee staff and, with a home stadium where the visitors pack their lineups with left-handed hitters for a shot at those nearby right field seats, baseball strategy dictates the use of left-handed pitchers.

"I had begun to wonder whether it was gone," Shantz confessed after his heart-warming showing against the Reds. "Now I know it was simply a bad streak. My screwball was working fine but, even better, I threw hard and my fast ball really moved like it used to."

CASEY STENGEL, the sail-eared Yankee skipper, was happy, too.

"He still has that major league arm," Casey exulted.

You can't blame Shantz if some of the doubts remain even beneath his new optimism. Because the fates have delighted in tormenting him. Shantz seemed ticketed for greatness right from the start. The 140-pounder from Pottstown, Pa., led the Western League with 18 victories in his first season in organized ball and moved right up to the Athletics.

IT TOOK him a year to get started but then, in 1951, he won 18 games for the A's which was equivalent to a 25-game season on one of the contenders. The following season he won 24 against a mere seven losses and then disaster struck.

Bobby was hit on the pitching wrist in a game against Washington and suffered a broken bone. He won the Most Valuable Award and yet the next season his delivery was so altered in an unconscious attempt to guard his wrist that he developed shoulder trouble. He was 5-9 that year, and it was to get worse.

Robinson Must Put Up or Shut Up During Day

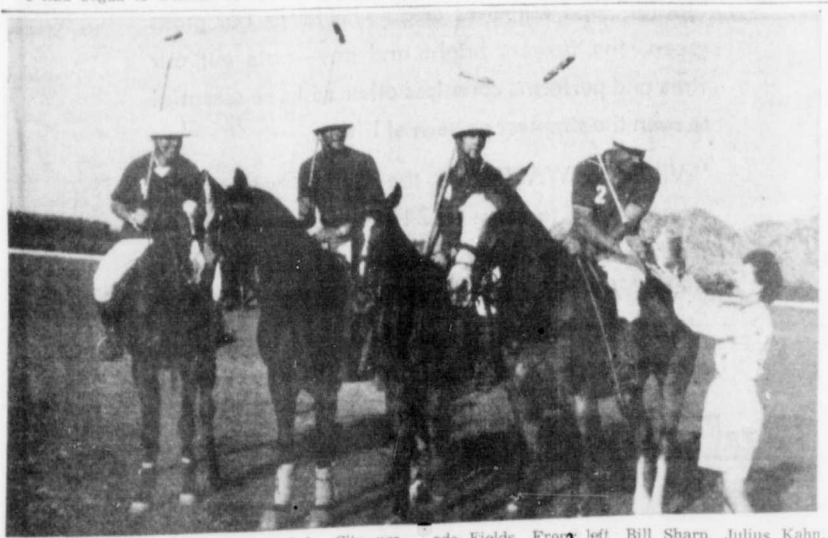

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York State Athletic Commission today will ask Sugar Ray Robinson to put up or shut up.

Melvin L. Krulwich, commission chairman, last month gave the middleweight champion 20 days in which to sign for a title defense against a suitable opponent. The time limit expired at midnight Thursday night.

Carmen Basilio, who lost the 160-pound crown to Robinson last March, has posted a $2,000 deposit with the commission backing up his bid for another shot at Sugar Ray. However, Robinson has been avoiding Basilio and reportedly has suggested Gustav Scholz of Germany as his next opponent.

The commission could declare the middleweight title vacant if Robinson refuses to sign for a title defense at this time.

Principals Sharp for Desert Circus Fight Card Saturday

Five-Bout Program Slated

Principals in tomorrow night's first major boxing program to be staged in Palm Springs tapered off their training grind and appeared sharp for the five-bout program which gets under way at 8 o'clock in a special ring erected in the Rodeo Field of the Polo Grounds.

The program is a part of the 23rd Annual Desert Circus and a large share of the take goes to charities sponsored by the Circus Association.

LAMAR CLARK, Cedar City, Utah, heavyweight champion of Utah, meets Tony Burton of Los Angeles in one-half of the double main event and Jay Fullmer, meets Cisco Andrade, veteran lightweight, in the other.

Andrade has been training at Gilman Hot Springs and was reported to be in top shape for tomorrow night's bout.

"I'm back in my old-time form," he said.

ANDRADE, AT HIS peak, was the number one contender for the lightweight crown. Fullmer, a newcomer in the lightweight ranks, has an impressive record to date.

The third ten-round on the card features another Fullmer, Don, a middleweight. He will take on Orlando DiPietro of Ohio. Don Fullmer now has a total of 20 fights and is still undefeated.

TWO FOUR-ROUND preliminaries will start off the evening's program.

Gene Fullmer, who was originally scheduled to appear but who had to cancel out because of a broken hand suffered in a New York fight, will be ringside when his two brothers fight.

Jack Dempsey will be guest referee.

Advance ticket sales indicate a large turnout for the card.

Circus Tourney Attracts Players On Six Courses

First annual Desert Circus Golf tournament was under way today on six local courses with golfers playing at Thunderbird, Tamarisk, Bermuda Dunes, Indian Wells, Ranch Club and O'Donnell clubs, participating.

Prizes will go to low net winners for men and women at all six courses and in addition there will be prizes for the lowest net for men and women from all courses from scores turned in.

Play is eligible to members of the various clubs and their guests. Scores will be turned in to the Chamber of Commerce and the winners announced after a compilation of all cards.

Entry fees in the tournament, $5 per person, go to Desert Circus charities.

Because Eldorado Country Club is holding its annual Sunburst tournament, starting today and running through Sunday, it is not participating in the tournament but made a substantial cash donation to the Circus charities instead.

Economy Run Route Longest in History

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The route for the 1,898.4-mile 1959 Mobilgas Economy Run starting Sunday was revealed today by chief steward Art C. Pillsbury.

The route, longest in the run's 23-year history, will carry a record field of 47 cars across nine states and through 147 towns and cities from Los Angeles to Kansas City, Mo.

At Last, TV Viewers To Get Look at Floyd

NEW YORK (UPI)—Home television viewers, some of whom may have forgotten what Floyd Patterson looks like, will be treated to at least three future fights involving the heavyweight champion within the next 15 months.

The first will be Patterson's defense against Britain's Brian London at Las Vegas, Nev., May 1, which will be televised nationally by NBC on its regular Friday TV series. The same network also plans to televise another Patterson fight "before next Christmas" and a third heavyweight title brawl "before June of 1960."

Television arrangements for Patterson's fight with Ingemar Johansson of Sweden at Yankee Stadium, June 25, have not been completed yet but this also is expected to be shown to home viewers.

Home TV plans for the Patterson-London bout were completed Thursday when Madison Square Garden officials disclosed they have relinquished the May 1 date on the weekly NBC series to Cecil Rhodes Jr., who will promote the Las Vegas fight.

Leonard Leads Masters by Two In Stormy Play

AUGUSTA, Ga. — (UPI) — Canadian Stan Leonard, who will only own up to 44 years but probably is closer to 50, led the field into the second round of the Masters golf tournament today—the first foreign player ever to do so.

His three-under-par 69 Thursday over the rain-soaked, windswept Augusta National Golf Club course was two strokes better than anyone else as the 68 professionals and 19 amateurs generally found the elements too tough for them.

Only three players outside of Leonard, a six-time Canadian PGA champion who has been a playing pro for 22 years, broke par.

They were defending champion Arnold Palmer, Jackie Burke and the veteran Chandler Harper, all of whom came in with one-under-par 71's. There were only five players at par — demonstrating how tough the course played Thursday except for Leonard.

At even par were Jay Hebert, Gene Littler, U.S. Open champion Tommy Bolt and two other foreign threats—Peter Thomson of Australia and Angel Miguel, the Spaniard who won the individual championship in the Canada Cup matches last year.

The pre-tournament betting favorite, three-time Masters champion Sam Snead, tied with 13 other players at 74. Snead couldn't control his approach because of the winds, which were as high as 30 miles an hour.

Sacs Drop 13-Inning Game to Padres, 7-6

Sacramento's Solons dropped another thriller yesterday at Indianapolis when they bowed to San Diego 6 to 7 in 13 innings. The day before they lost to Seattle at El Centro, 2 to 3 in 10 innings.

Playing in 100-degree weather, the teams sweat it out for three hours and ten minutes before a decision was reached.

CLARENCE MOORE singled in the San Diego win in the bottom of the 13th with two out.

After tussling along through eight innings with the Sacs trailing 3 to 5 at the top of the ninth, Bob Elliott's boys rammed over three runs in the top of that frame to go ahead, 6 to 5. But Steve Jankowski of the Padres singled in the tying run. Jankowski earlier had two triples.

BOWLING

WOMEN'S LEAGUE
Janis Enterprises rolled the high team series, 2409, in last night's play in the Women's League at the Palm Springs Bowling Academy and Ramon Drug took the high team game, 856.

Peggy Emerson was high individual with her 490 series and Billie Pepper had high individual game at 186.

Standing of the teams to date: Wheelettes, 52-23; Hoams Pools, 45-30; P. S. Transfer and Storage, 43-32; Janis Enterprises, 33 - 42; Minna's Fashions, 27-43; Ramon Drug, 25-50.

Perris	1 1 500 1
Beaumont	1 1 500 1
Banning	0 2 000 2
Elsinore	0 2 000 2

Going into the top of the sixth inning trailing 4 to 7, Palm Springs High Indians came through with a five-run outburst that put them ahead 9-7 and then added one in the seventh to win their second straight Riverside County League baseball game from Elsinore High at Elsinore yesterday, 10 to 7.

The win put them into a tie with Coachella Valley at the top of the RCL pile, each having a 2-0 record.

LARRY SEGUNDO went the route for the Tribe limiting Elsinore to seven hits.

Coach George Scholl's boys made but two buntles in the field while Elsinore booted five chances.

Marty Berk hit two out of four to maintain a phenomenal .750 batting average for the two games, six hits out of eight trips to the plate. Joe Lewis hit two out of four to bring his average for the season to .375.

EVERY MEMBER of the Indian team except Lennie Ruiz hit at least once safely in chalking up the win.

In other games, Coachella kept pace by trimming Perris, 4 - 1; San Jacinto, defeated by the Tribe last week, downed Beaumont, 8 to 4; and Hemet beamed Banning, 9 to 7.

The Elsinore game:

Logart Favored To Win Rematch

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Veteran welterweight Isaac Logart of Cuba tries to avenge a split decision loss to young Charlie Scott tonight in a nationally-televised NBC starting at 10 p. m. (e.s.t.) from the New Capital Arena.

Logart was upset March 16 by the 22-year-old Chicagoan at New York's St. Nicholas Arena in the Cuban's American fight after a three-fight South American tour.

Gardening in the Desert

If the Amateur Gardener has a large lot around his new house and has done little towards planting he would be wise to first draw a plan which would be helpful in his early efforts. The trees he buys would naturally be young but, if he has any vision at all, he will think ahead to about ten to twelve years and then ascertain what the height of the trees would be then.

In our opinion he should omit such high growing trees as the high growing eucalyptus Red Gum with its possible height of 80 feet and spread of near 30, also the still taller White Gum and the Desert Gum and Silver Dollar Gum.

IF HE FANCIES eucalyptus he would do better with one called Scarlet Flowering or the Pulveranta. He should also consider many eucalypti as dirty and untidy most of the time.

Coming down to the maximum of 55 feet in height the drought-resistant Bottle Tree might possibly be considered. On its spread of between 25 and 30 feet it produces tiny white bell-shaped flowers and might be a good choice as shade for small plants that call for some shade from the biting sun.

TO MAKE THE trimming easier the tree should not be allowed to grow so high; trimming back from the height is advisable. A tree such as the Bauhania, commonly called the Orchid Tree, is one of the best for garden growth. Its height seldom reaches 30 feet if cut back annually after the bloom has gone and the pods of seed have fallen off.

One advantage of this tree is that many more can be grown from the seeds. We would advise the use of a five-gallon can such as painters use and a not over-rich prepared soil. One inch holes low down on the sides of the can will supply drainage. After three years it would be wise to transplant the contents of the can, without disturbing the soil if possible.

NOT ALL Bauhanias have the same colors in their bloom, some are deep purple and some lavender and white. We have heard that these trees need protection from the winds but this is a canard; we have a Bauhania and have seen many of them in the wide open spaces with heart-satisfying blooms that seem to defy the winds. Granted it is deciduous but only for a short period and watching the new, two-lobed leaves coming back soon is worthwhile.

We who have lived awhile in our desert and watched its fabulous growth cannot help noting the gradual disappearance of such early stand-bys as the Tamarisk and the Cottonwood Tree, both of which grow to a fabulous height. The Tamarisk was a standard weather breaker and still is further down the valley. It seems we are using houses now as a wind-breaker, we are gradually getting more modern and city-like. Both of these trees shed a lot of debris hence have no place in modern gardens.

AS A REALLY decorative tree the Jacaranda grows well in the desert, for the first decade it grows slowly then it seems to really jump upwards. The bell-shaped, blue blooms are sensational. It looks and thrives best when away from other trees. With not too frequent watering, adequate drainage and no fertilizing all the cost is in the original purchase.

We would advise the Amateur gardener not to be too profuse in purchasing trees. As the layout of roses and other cut flowers begins to take shape he will have a better idea as to where shade is needed and where full sun is best.—T.G.M.

SANDPIPER GIVEN NATIONAL STORY

Palm Desert's popular Sandpiper own-your-own apartments received national publicity last month with a full five-page editorial feature about the newest idea of desert living in the Concrete and Masonry Age magazine.

The magazine featured the unique design of the Sandpiper architects Palmer and Krusel of Beverly Hills, the construction and coordination of builders George M. Holstein and Sons, and the tropical landscaping of Bill Nugent, Sandpiper landscaping architect.

The Sandpiper is now selling immediate occupancy in its second unit, with construction already under way for late this year in unit three.

The two bedroom-two bath units sell for $21,500 and each apartment is located around pool and barbecue area with all utilities underground. All electric built-in kitchens are also featured in the apartments.

The Sandpiper is located just off of Highway 111 in Palm Desert on the Palms-to-Pines Highway.

Lewis Elected Chairman Of Board of Land Title

Ben H. Lewis, for many years a civic leader in Riverside, was elected chairman of the board of directors of Land Title Company of Riverside County at the annual stockholders meeting in Riverside.

Lewis, who is retiring from active management of the company, is a native of Riverside. He is the son of D. W. Lewis, founder of Land Title Company of Riverside County.

HE IS A past president of the Riverside Chamber of Commerce and of the Riverside Community Players, and is active in the United Fund and other civic affairs. Lewis holds membership in the Elks Club, Masonic Lodge, El Bokal Shrine, Victoria Country Club and Native Sons of the Golden West. He and his wife, Catherine D. Lewis, have two daughters, Mrs. Patricia Harnage and Mrs. Jacqueline Cramer.

William G. Was, who has been assistant manager of the firm for the past several months, was elected vice president, manager and member of the board.

ALSO NEWLY elected to the board of directors is Stewart Adler, vice president and general manager of Owl-Service Rock Co. of Riverside.

Re-elected to the board were Delbert Harris of Riverside, escrow supervisor of Citrus Belt Savings and Loan Association; Wallace L. Ruby of Riverside, property management; and Donald P. Kennedy of Santa Ana, executive vice president of Orange County Title Co.

Variance Board To Hear Four Applications

Four items were today listed on the Friday meeting agenda posted for the Palm Springs Variance Board.

The board meets at 2 p.m., Friday, at City Hall.

The meeting will open with public hearing on Wesley J. Adler's application for a parking variance to omit a 12-foot reserve strip between the side lot line and parking area for property located on Camino Roma, between Indian Avenue and Avenida Palos Verdes.

Other items include application of F. A. Purcell for paving variance to allow paving for property at 360, 374 and 352 Pablos Drive.

Application by City National Bank for a sign variance and application by Eugene S. Eldridge for a paving variance for property located at 335 South Via Las Palmas.

Among all our friends, "WILLING WATER" is the most indispensable. He slakes our thirst—he washes our dishes—he provides the means for keeping both "Junior" and ourselves clean—he keeps our grass green, the flowers bright and gay—puts out our fires and performs countless other tasks so essential to even the simplest pattern of life.

"WILLING WATER" is the tireless worker who stands ready to serve us 24 hours of every day—ready to jump to our command at the turn of a valve. Watch for him each Thursday in the pages of this newspaper—you'll find him interesting, amusing and—most important of all—very helpful.

No. 215
INVITATION TO BIDDERS FOR FURNISHING ONE (1) ALL PURPOSE MAINTAINER TO THE CITY OF PALM SPRINGS, CALIFORNIA
Sealed proposals or bids are requested for furnishing one (1) tractor class or type maintainer with term leveler attachment, approximately 6,200 pounds weight in accordance with specifications entitled "SPECIFICATIONS FOR FURNISHING ONE (1) ALL PURPOSE MAINTAINER," dated April 1, 1959. Said specifications may be obtained in the Office of the Director of Public Works of Palm Springs.
Bids will be received until 11:00 A.M. April 17, 1959, in the Office of the City Clerk, 3200 McCallum Way, Palm Springs, California, following which they will be opened and read publicly.
Bids must be submitted on the form required by the City. The form will be furnished with the specifications to prospective bidders.
Bids must be accompanied by cash or certified check, payable to the City of Palm Springs, as a bond, in the amount of five (5%) percent of the amount of the bid.
Acceptance of the Proposal by the City Council shall form the contract between the parties for supplying the equipment.
Failure by the successful bidder to enter into a contract within the said time shall result in the forfeiture of the Bidder's Bond.
Bidders will be required to file an affidavit of non-collusion with their bids.
The City reserves the right to select any or all bids and to waive any informality or technical irregularity in any bid.
This notice shall be considered part of any contract made pursuant thereto.
Dated, April 1959.
MARY O. PINOWALD, City Clerk
Published April 3 and 10, 1959.

School district officials are now completing a survey of work opportunities for high school and junior college students in the desert area.

Ranging to the Arizona border, the survey is designed to determine summer and part-time, year around jobs available for students in four school and two junior college districts.

SCHOOLS SUPT. Dwight Twist said the survey will also help determine how the school district can tailor its work education program to fit the training demands of business organizations.

Conducted in cooperation with the County Superintendent of Schools, the survey also involves the Coachella Valley, Blythe and Indio high school districts and the Coachella Valley and Palo Verde Junior College Districts.

STAFF MEMBERS of the various districts will canvass business organizations with queries immediately determining the number of firms willing to help with the work education program and what work opportunities are available.

Answers will also be sought to the question of what additional training should be offered in high schools or junior colleges to meet the needs of business firms in the area.

IN PALM SPRINGS, the survey is headed by Paul Summit, district director of special services; George Manington, high school work education counselor; and Dan Angell, head counselor at the high school.

Summit said the survey is particularly valuable in revealing whether or not commercial students are being adequately trained for the jobs required of them.

America's first road law was enacted by Virginia in 1632. It provided that highways "shall be laid out" in convenient places.

Summit said the survey is particularly valuable in revealing whether or not commercial students are being adequately trained for the jobs required of them.

1959 Desert Circus Salutes State of Colorado

COLORADO

(Copyright 1931 by Peggy Young Crowther)

In the land of Colorado,
With her mountains grand and high,
Where the sun is always shining,
And Heaven seems close by—
Where the grip of friendship
tightens,
And your dreams of life come true,
Where you're filled with inspirations,
And your courage guides you thru

As you roam among her mountains
'Neath her tall cathedral spires;
Seeking peace and recreation,
How to realize Life's desires—
When you hear the soft sweet music,
Of her tall and graceful pines;
Your heart just fills with happiness,
And your soul to God inclines.

You linger by the waterfalls,
In her canons deep and cool,
Learning lessons taught by Nature—
From the quiet of the pool—
Then contentment steals upon you,
In this dell of purple flowers;
And you know that life's worth living,
In this grand big world of ours.

Where your soul is soothed to slumber,
By the tinkling of the brook,
As it winds its way to oceans—
Bearing joy from every nook—
To gladden lands between them,
To the prairie and the sod,
Then we know that we are blessed,
And we love the hand of God.

Out in dear old Colorado,
Where the sun is always bright;
Where your thoughts are pure and holy,
And your burdens seem quite light—
Where the skies are always blue,
In God's Country—where we dwell,
Where the heartaches seem much fewer,
And your worth is what will tell.

So this land of love and freedom—
This gem of the golden West—
From her tops of snowy mountains,
To her valleys and each crest—
Where breezes bring us promises,
And life takes a rosy hue—
And all that is good within us,
God—we dedicate to You.

—Peggy Young Crowther

Desert Circus Has Amazing 23-Year History

By FRED C. WEIGEL

Desert Circus, which started as a community affair just a little over 22 years ago, today is a gigantic affair, which turns over thousands of dollars to local charities.

In the first years of the Desert Circus, local businessmen would not even dream of keeping their business places open during the big parade and festivities at the ball — but would close up and everyone attended the events.

Today, Desert Circus is a business.

THOUSANDS OF visitors pour into the resort community to play and enjoy the festivities, and the money from the events of Desert Circus is now turned over to charities and organizations in Palm Springs to help them carry on their civic work.

To retrace the history of Desert Circus, we went into the files of The Desert Sun, and using the date of the Desert Circus parade, recap here the highlights of 21 years of Desert Circus.

FEBRUARY 21, 1934 — The first recorded Desert Circus was held in Palm Springs, and the parade was headed by Earle Strebe, who asked for and got the support of some 100 Palm Springs businesses and paraded down Palm Canyon Drive. There was little written about the event, but on February 21, 1935 — Under the leadership of Nellie N. Coffman, 140 entries paraded down the Drive and the Desert Inn float won the grand prize. Harry Brot, then the owner of the Village Pharmacy, offered $15 for the "worst entry" and won the prize himself. He donated the money to the church.

FEBRUARY 21, 1936 — One hundred and twenty-five local business establishments entered the parade to make a procession a mile and a half long down Palm Canyon Drive, and 25 field events were held at the locality which is now the Polo Grounds. Earl Coffman, H. E. Patterson and Trav Rogers were on the Circus Committee, and Chuck Morrison was Grand Marshal. The Parade sweepstakes was won by the Carrell Building entry.

Said The Desert Sun, "Due to the fact the bicycle entries were not numbered and consequently could not be distinguished by the judges, the same entries will appear Sunday at the baseball game and be judged then by the same committee of judges."

MARCH 11, 1937 — Changing the date of the circus from the George Washington's Birthday week, 90 entries were in the line of parade, and it was headed by Los Angeles County Sheriff Eugene Biscailuz. Nellie N. Coffman, riding in a howdah on top of an elephant, won the sweepstakes award. Said The Desert Sun in reporting the 1937 event, "the parade ended, as every good circus parade ends, with a caliope."

March 17, 1938 — Each Desert Circus has been proclaimed "the biggest and best ever," and in reality was, for it was growing into a big affair. This year Leo Carrillo was grand marshal. The first Big Top Ball was held on Saturday, March 19, 1938, at the Racquet Club and was attended by a host of personalities in the entertainment world.

MARCH 17, 1939 — For the first and only time, the Agua Caliente Indian Reservation float won the grand prize of the Desert Circus Parade. Frank Bennett was chairman of the event, and Biscailuz was again the grand marshal. The Big Top Ball was held at the Racquet Club, and was destined to continue to be held there for many years.

March 29, 1940 — The Desert Circus Committee made a decision and it was printed in bold face type on the front page of the Desert Sun. "Palm Canyon Drive would be used for the parade and festivities, and Indian Avenue would be for automobile traffic." Grand Marshal of the 1940 parade was motion picture actor Lewis Stone, and in the line of march were such personalities as Tom Mix, Bill Gargan, Paul Kelly, Jackie Cooper and Frank Morgan. The parade was held on March 29, a Friday, and on Saturday was the Big Top Ball and pet show.

MARCH 28, 1941 — The first Desert Circus Queen, as proclaimed in the files of The Desert Sun, was Miss Joan Monroe of Willmette, Ill. Earl Gibbs headed the three-day event, and among the personalities who followed Grand Marshal Eugene Biscailuz down the drive were Robert Taylor, Charles Farrell, Rudy Vallee, Jack Benny, Bill Gargan, Jackie Cooper and Jerry Colonna.

March 27, 1942 — The ninth annual Desert Circus was a big affair, and came just after the United States was in war with Germany and Japan. The theme of the affair was "Victory," and through the sale of defense bonds, Miss Adie Bush won the crown as Queen of Desert Circus. Bill Schiller was chairman and Leo Carrillo was grand marshal.

SAID THE DESERT Sun in a page one story that year, "The Desert Circus has grown from a homey little Village Festival to a full-fledged, nationally known attraction, and has more or less paralleled Palm Springs itself in development."

March, 1943 — The Desert Circus was cancelled because of the war, but Palm Springs had a few days before a Palm Springs Queen, Miss Gloria Flavin. She was queen of the "Buy a Bomb" Campaign. Spring of 1944 and 1945 — For these two years Palm Springs was doing its part in fighting a war, and took no time for Desert Circus activities.

APRIL 6, 1946 — The first post-war Desert Circus was held, headed by Frank Bennett. Ruth Roberson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Roberson, was chosen Queen.

Said The Desert Sun, "Little Bear, as usual, will lead the parade in Palm Springs for the past 17 years." (Little Bear died just a few days before a Palm Springs See DESERT CIRCUS, Page 8B

'Easy Way to Start Savings, Loan Office Told

By WILLIAM H. SMITH
President, CVSLA

In 1948, after a three-month trip around the United States, I came to Palm Springs and decided to retire from business activities and make my home here for the balance of my life.

After spending approximately five months of retirement with practically nothing to do, I decided that I was too young to quit work entirely, so commenced to look around for something to occupy my mind, and which would not be too hard work but would keep me active and in touch with the business world.

MY FIRST THOUGHT was to contact some of the people whom I knew from my previous business engagements in the city of Long Beach where I became acquainted with men in Palm Springs, namely, William Wright, at that time a Realtor, and John Munholland, also in real estate activities. Upon my first visit to Wright, I asked him this question: "What can I do, Billy, that would give me something in the way of a business but would not be too hard work, and something that is needed in Palm Springs?"

THINKING BACK to the days when he knew me in Long Beach and when I was at the head of one of the leading building and loan associations in that city, Wright immediately stated that my former occupation of building and loan work was the thing that Palm Springs needed the most.

Knowing Palm Springs as a resort community and thinking back to the days when I was in that business, I immediately put the matter from my mind because I knew that it was then our policy not to make loans in a resort area.

AFTER GIVING IT more careful thought, however, and with another month of inquiry and survey among other business firms in this city, all of whom seemed to be of the same opinion, I decided that possibly it was a good field for a savings and loan association.

In talking to the Savings and Loan Commissioner's office and the Federal Home Loan Bank authorities in Los Angeles about the possibilities, I was given nothing but discouragement. For the same reasoning which I had used in my own mind was evident in the minds of these officials.

I WAS INFORMED that five or six applications had been previously denied in the Palm Springs area on the grounds that it was strictly a resort area and that the economy was not stable and would not justify a financial institution of this type.

Being of a nature of not getting discouraged, I immediately set out to make further investigation and analysis, and collected the necessary data which was very extensive, such as building permits, banking debits for the five years previous, payrolls, sales taxes, real estate tax rates, school enrollments, assessed valuations, and, in fact, almost everything that a person could want in the way of statistical information.

I EMPLOYED ONE of the title companies in Riverside, at my own expense, to secure a listing of all mortgage loans of record for a five-year period prior to 1948 and, last but not least, I employed an attorney at my own expense to put this information together and prepare a lengthy document which would be required for evidence in connection with an application to the State Commissioner's office.

One of the most difficult jobs was the many days spent in securing subscriptions to the initial required capital stock which, at that time, was $50,000 with an additional $10,000 to be paid in as surplus.

HAVING SECURED all of this data, which required a period of approximately six months, we filed our application for a permit to operate a savings and loan association in Palm Springs. Upon filing of the application, I was asked by the secretary to the commissioner the following question: "Do you wish to take the application back with you or shall we send it to you?"

My reply to this remark was "What do you mean by this?" Then, I was informed that it was not the intention of the Commissioner's office to grant the application and that I would save time by withdrawing the same before presentation. Being familiar with the laws governing this business, I knew I was entitled to a hearing, which I demanded, and a date for the hearing was set.

PRIOR TO THAT date, a great deal more evidence was necessary, such as letters of recommendation from people in the business as to my ability, letters from various savings and loan associations in the area indicating that no competitive angle would affect their operations, agreements by many prominent business representatives to appear and testify at the hearing, etc.

One of the obstacles encountered was in the selection of a name in which we had picked the name of Coachella Valley Savings and Loan Association. Because of a technicality in the law which prohibits the use of any similarity of names other than "Savings and Loan Association," it was necessary for me to travel from Salinas in the northern part of the state to El Monte in the southern part of the state and secure the consent of three other associations who had used the word "Valley" in the name of their corporation.

BEFORE THE HEARING date, an investigation was made by the Criminal Department of the State of California which investigation revealed 28 W. H. Smiths who had criminal indictments against them in the state and 14 W. R. Wrights. As both Wright and myself were to be officers and directors of the association, these criminal indictments had to be proven by fingerprinting, etc., that there was no indictment against either of the above named parties.

As I was not known personally in Palm Springs, I was required by the Chamber of Commerce to secure testimonial letters as to my past record before being allowed to solicit for the sale of stock in the community.

THIS WAS NECESSARY because one of the provisions of the Insurance Corporation would be forthcoming within a period of two months. We were therefore forced to open in October 1949, without any insurance of accounts.

It took nine months to get this approval but once granted we were on our way to a most remarkable growth. Today we are the largest association in Riverside County with assets in excess of 22 million dollars.

FINALLY, THE DATE of the hearing arrived, and after a long session in the commissioner's office in Los Angeles, and because of the fact that no evidence could be proven to the contrary that there was not sufficient reason why a franchise should not be granted, the commissioner approved our application.

But this was only the beginning. Of the many people who had signed up subscriptions to purchase stock in the company, and whose names had been submitted with our application, we found, upon contact, that many of them had changed their minds, and that an entirely new sale campaign had to be undertaken in order to convince the people of Palm Springs that the investment was sound and would succeed.

One of the requirements which we did not figure on before making our application to the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, was that we must secure, in addition to the Capital Stock, $100,000 in savings investments. This money had to be deposited in a local bank before we could open our doors. This meant that yours truly hit the pavement again for subscriptions to savings accounts.

APPLICATION WAS then made to the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation for insurance of accounts. Because of the limitations placed on our application approval, it was necessary that we start in business within a very short time after the granting of this franchise.

We were assured that insurance of accounts from the Insurance Corporation would be forthcoming within a period of two months. We were therefore forced to open in October 1949, without any insurance of accounts.

It took nine months to get this approval but once granted we were on our way to a most remarkable growth. Today we are the largest association in Riverside County with assets in excess of 22 million dollars.

Spriggins to Play At Sheriff's Dance

Music for the annual Sheriff's Dance Saturday in connection with the 23rd Annual Desert Circus, from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m. at the Elks Club, will be provided by Ace Spriggins and his band, according to word from Rudy Salazar, chairman of the event.

Circus as well as Western decorations and attire will prevail.

Admission to the fun-filled affair is $1 per person, with net proceeds earmarked for the Desert Circus Association charities.

ANYONE FOR SIX-GUNS? You'll find plenty of six-shooters ready for action at Saturday's Kangaroo Court, including Charles Bucks. A member of the Colorado Six Guns, Bucks gives Desert Circus Deputy Joan Bering a few pointers on the art of gun-slinging in preparation for the quick-draw contest to be staged during court activities. The gadget Bucks is demonstrating is designed to measure the time it takes a gunman to slap leather and hit his target.

ALL RIGHT, YOU GUYS, we're ready to slap leather with any California cowpoke, say six stalwart gunmen who'll represent Colorado in a fast-draw contest at Saturday's Kangaroo Court. Matched against some of Hollywood's best screenland cowboys, these six-gun artists are known as the "Six Guns," the fastest guns in Colorado. Drawn up in a fairly awesome display of firepower are, left to right, Chris Whelan, Chuck Bucks, Robert Six, Desert Circus High Sheriff and president of Continental Airlines; Harding Lawrence, Mark Kramer and Don Wilson. Gov. Steve McNichols will head his home-state team.

Weingarten, Hough

Insurance Firm Now Observing 25th Anniversary

The Weingarten and Hough insurance firm is currently observing its 25th anniversary in Palm Springs.

Established in 1934 by Alvin Weingarten as a "one desk" agency, the firm is now the largest corporation of its type in the desert area.

Presently operating in a well-staffed office at 176 South Indian Avenue, Weingarten and Hough is owned and operated by four corporate executives.

WEINGARTEN is president. Earl Hough is first vice president, Don Miller is second vice president and Don Bottorff is third vice president. Esther Weingarten is secretary-treasurer.

Weingarten started the company with one desk in a Plaza real estate office when he arrived here from San Bernardino in 1934.

He later established his own office in the Plaza and, in 1945, welcomed Earl Hough as an associate.

HOUGH came to Palm Springs in 1935 and opened an Associated Service Station at the northeast corner of Palm Canyon Drive and East Anad Road, which he operated for nine years.

Miller, an Air Force veteran from Los Angeles, joined the firm in 1947, and Bottorff, a former Lincoln, Nebr., public relations man, joined the company in 1954.

Weingarten and Hough moved into its present site in 1956 and now boasts a staff of seven employees, in addition to the four officers.

MILLER SAID the company is today the largest real estate firm in the desert area. It represents at least 15 major insurance companies.

Some of the nationally prominent insurance companies represented by Weingarten and Hough are the Insurance Company of North America, Travelers Insurance, General Insurance Company of America and the Kemper Group.

OTHERS ARE Pacific Mutual Life Insurance, Connecticut Mutual Life and Continental Assurance Companies.

Miller pointed out that Weingarten and Hough offers "one-stop" insurance service, handling virtually any kind of insurance desired — including accident, life and health policies.

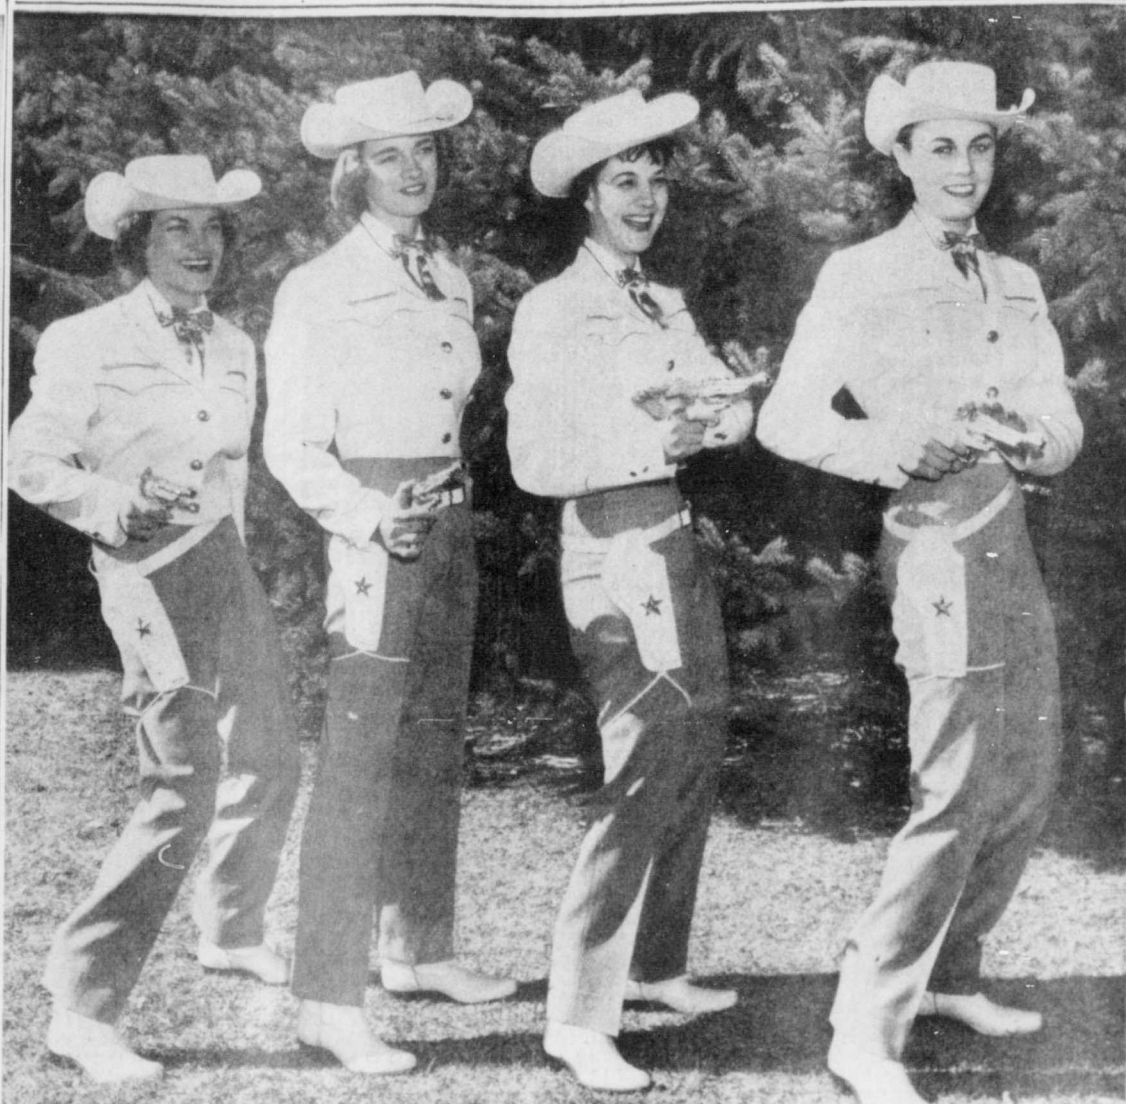

Mighty Mike

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — When Jerry Barber used to step up to the tee and start matching shots with the professional giants of golf, little men everywhere took heart, for the California mite stands only five-five and weighs 137 pounds. Jerry retired from the tour in 1955 to take a job as a pro at the swank Wilshire Country Club here.

The world merchant marine fleet grew by 7,787,650 tons in 1958, according to Lloyd's Register of Shipping, which said this was the largest annual increase since 1948.

CHARLES WINNINGER, beloved star of stage, screen and radio, is served a subpoena by Deputy Joan Blasnek because he is not in Western attire as required for the 23rd Annual Desert Circus. Winninger is currently starring in the Palm Springs Playhouse production of "Lightnin'" which opened Monday night and which will be a part of Desert Circus activities Saturday, April 4, at 8:30 p. m. at the Playhouse. (Anderson Photo)

SWINGING THE SEXIEST six-guns west of Colorado are these four well-armed lovelies from the Rocky Mountain State. Known as Continental Airlines' "Golden Jet Girls," this fast-draw quartet arrived here from Colorado to participate in the 23rd annual Desert Circus and its salute to Colorado. You'll see them ready to match guns with any California owhoot at the hilarious Kangaroo Court, scheduled for the Tennis Club Saturday afternoon, where they'll serve as court mascots. The old west was never anything like this.

In 1934 Alvin Weingarten opened a one man General Insurance office. In 25 years that office has grown into Weingarten & Hough Inc., of which he is the active president.

Vice President Earl Hough, joined the organization in 1945

Vice President Don Miller, joined the organization in 1947

Opera to Symphony is 'Big Jump'

Basile Is Now Top Conductor

By GEORGE LAINE

It is a seven-league leap from opera to symphony, but Italy's Arturo Basile appears to have made it.

Basile parlayed a spectacular engagement with the New York City Opera Company in 1957 into a contract with the San Francisco Opera Company this year and had been thinking that he'd done quite nicely with his New York appearance.

THEN, FASTER THAN you could say "Turandot," Los Angeles Philharmonic Conductor Erich Leinsdorf announced that he had accepted the Metropolitan Opera conductorship, vacated by ailing Dimitri Mitropoulos. In a quandary, the Los Angeles Orchestra wired Basile that he could have Leinsdorf's spot.

Basile, whose experience but not his admiration along symphonic lines had been limited, wired back a rapid-fire okeh. Basile will be on the podium when the huge orchestra plays at 8:30 p.m., Sunday, in the high school auditorium.

"I had heard so much about Los Angeles and its Philharmonic Orchestra that I was eager to conduct there," Basile explains. "I never dreamed my opportunity would come so suddenly."

BASILE ADMITTEDLY has his major interests in opera.

Born in Stracusa, Sicily, 40 years ago, Basile went to Italy at an early age and won an oboe chair in the State Opera Company at Turin. He was still a young man a few years later when another ailing conductor started him on his baton-wielding way.

The conductor was Zino Maruzzi and he asked Basile if he'd meant it when he said he'd "give anything" to conduct Puccini's "Manon Lescaut." When Basile said yes, Maruzzi told him he'd get his chance.

"Conduct it tonight," the aged director said. "I am too ill to work."

LIKE MOST MUSICIANS, Basile favors Puccini to Verdi, likes Beethoven first among symphonic composers. Second choice is Brahms with Wagner — who actually never wrote a symphony — third. Since Basile apparently did not select the Rossini-Respectful-Tchaikovsky program that will be rendered by the orchestra here, it would be interesting to discover whose judgment superseded that of Basile.

The youthful maestro — he and the orchestra are celebrating their fortieth birthdays together this year — speaks no English — but that has proved no problem with the members of the Los Angeles musical aggregation.

"We speak one language," Basile says simply. "Music."

Occasionally he calls on one or another of the Italians in the orchestra for interpretative aid, but most of his response is gained through his extraordinary baton and hand gestures.

MARRIED TO A YOUNG Italian pianist — who quit her career to raise the couple's child — Basile has little time for aught save music. He hikes in the foothills of the Swiss Alps, not far from Turin, when time permits and, now that his son is 12, sometimes combines hiking with companionship together with the young man.

Still, it is music that reigns in the Basile household, although his son does not care to become a musician.

"Like many young boys of his age," Basile points out, "he has determined to become a nuclear scientist. He must make his own choice."

RECORDING ACTIVITIES do not command as much of a conductor's time in Italy as they do in America, yet Basile has several notable recording efforts behind him with Cetra Records, prior to that company being gobbled up and then discarded by Capitol and EMI. Both Renata Tebaldi and Maria Callas performed in opera recordings under his direction.

LEGION TO HOST TWENTYNINE PALMS MARINES IN PARADE

Owen Coffman Post No. 519, American Legion, will play host to 153 officers and men from the United States Marine Corps Base at Twentynine Palms, all of whom will be participating in the 23rd Annual Desert Circus parade on Saturday morning, April 4, according to Commander Al Patane.

Marines taking part in the parade will include 35 men in the bands, two platoons marching and a float depicting the raising of the flag on Iwo Jima.

Following the parade, the Marines will be transported to the American Legion Hall for a luncheon, prepared and served by the Legion members.

Saturday afternoon, the Marines will be free to attend Desert Circus activities or go sightseeing; and they will return to their base early Saturday evening.

ONLY 40, BUT already highly-rated among world conductors is Arturo Basile. The Sicilian-born operator director will lead the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra at 8:30 p. m., Sunday, in

TOP GUNSMOKE ARTISTS from the ranks of television's fastest-drawing western stars will line up alongside California Governor Edmund G. (Pat) Brown when he faces a passel of Colorado gun-slingers in a leather-slapper shoot-out here Saturday. Among the TV straight-shooters who'll be on hand to outdraw Colorado Governor Steve McNichols and his Rocky Mountain gunmen at the Tennis Club's Kangaroo Court will be, left to right, John Smith, the marshal of "Cimarron City;" Peter Graves, star of "Fury;" and Steve McQueen, whose sawed-off Winchester brings 'em back in "Wanted, Dead or Alive," every Saturday night.

Second Hoedown Jamboree Set

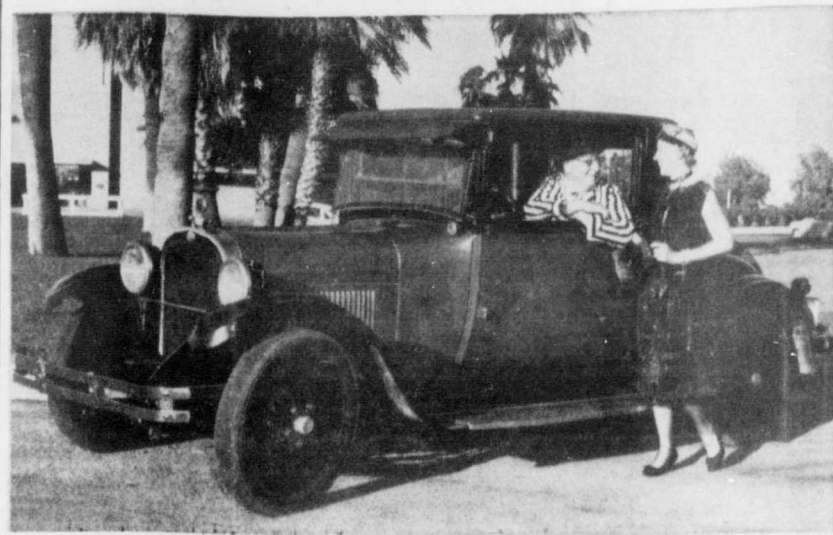

Second annual Beginners Hoedown Jamboree will be held Sunday, April 5, from 2 to 5 p.m. at the Ramon Trailer Park Auditorium, as a part of the 23rd annual Desert Circus, it was announced by Howard Haddock, recreation superintendent for the City of Palm Springs.

Master of ceremonies for the event will be Osa Mathews, noted Southern California square dance caller and instructor.

The public is invited to attend. Dances called on Sunday afternoon will be of sufficient simplicity that persons who have only been taking lessons for six months to a year will be able to dance with ease. Even those who do not dance are welcome to come as spectators.

Price of admission for the hoedown is $1 per person. Net proceeds from the affair will be donated to the Desert Circus Association charities, as were the profits from the fifth annual Desert Circus Square Dance Jamboree held March 15 at El Mirador Hotel auditorium.

DESERT CIRCUS QUEEN Shirley Temple will reign over the 23rd annual Desert Circus Parade, the Big Top Ball and Kangaroo Court this weekend as Palm Springs salutes the State of Colorado. The glamorous actress and her husband, Charles Alden Black, arrived here today from San Francisco to take part in the city's biggest annual Desert Circus program.

parade just about two years ago.)

April 12, 1947 — An all-time record high for entries in the parade was set during this year, and Palm Springs coed Barbara "Babs" Neel was selected as Desert Circus Queen. Motion picture actor Frank Morgan was Grand Marshal and head of the affair was longtime local resident Barney Hinkle. This year's event ended with an air show at Palm Springs airport in which some 1,000 airplanes took part.

MARCH 13, 1948 — Bob Hope was Grand Marshal of the parade this year, and a girl from Seattle, Wash., Marilyn McKay, was chosen as Queen. The Circus was chairmanned by Bill Grant. "The greatest Desert Circus parade of its 12 year history trotted and rolled down Palm Canyon Drive as two thousand horses, eleven bands and drum and bugle corps, dozens of floats and scores of individual entries marched between jammed curbs," announced the Desert Sun.

April 2, 1949 — Desert Circus had its first, and to date its only woman Grand Marshal. She was movie glamour queen Jane Russell. Heading the circus this year was George Roberson and Barney Hinkle, and the sweepstakes prize was won by Desmonds. An award for the most humorous float went to the Palm Springs Sanitation district, which had Mickey Finn and Bill Grant "convulsing the crowds with their antics as 'White Wings,' city street sweepers."

MARCH 25, 1950 — Palm Springs Mayor Charles Farrell crowned Miss Mabel Potter as Queen of the Circus, and Bill "Hopalong Cassidy" Boyd was Grand Marshal. Chairman of the 14th annual event was Kenneth Kirk, and the Desert Inn won the sweepstakes award for the finest entry in the parade.

April 7, 1951 — A big parade, a three-ring circus and a dance highlighted the 15th annual Desert Circus, and Barbara Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith, reigned as Queen. Leo Carrillo was grand Marshal of the Parade and Frank Bennett was chairman of the show.

APRIL 6, 1952 — Under the general chairmanship of Stewart Hopps, the Desert Circus of this year went down in history as the "greatest." A "preview" of the circus was held at the Los Angeles Press Club at the Ambassador Hotel in Los Angeles, and the whole state was talking about the affair. A wild animal show and championship air races were added to the regular agenda of a Big Top Ball, Kangaroo Court, and parade. The weekend was highlighted by a Bing Crosby broadcast from the Village with Bob Hope as his guest star. Marilyn Meyer was chosen Queen, and Major General Emmett "Rosie" O'Donnell, commander of March Air Force Base, was grand Marshal.

APRIL 18, 1953 — Most Palm Springs residents will remember the big Desert Circus of this year, which was co-chairmanned by George Strebe and Milton Hicks. The two chairmen rode donkeys down the line of parade and Bonita Granville was crowned Queen in ceremonies held at the Beaux Art Ball at the Tennis Club. This is the year that Bob Howard rode atop a giant elephant, and Los Angeles Sheriff Eugene Biscailuz was Grand Marshal.

April 24, 1954 — The latest Desert Circus in its history was again chairmanned by George Strebe and Milton Hicks, and Alice Faye was chosen as queen. Walt Disney was Grand Marshal and the theme of the Circus was "The Living Desert." One of the big highlights of this year's circus was the flight of a group of B29's over the Village which dropped pamphlets from the air plugging the afternoon program for the Ground Observers Corp.

APRIL 16, 1955 — Under the leadership of Jimmy Cooper, the 19th Annual Desert Circus chose Roberta Linn as its Queen. Eugene Biscailuz was Grand Marshal of the parade and the Helms Bakery entry won the grand prize. Bob Howard of the Howard Manor was back on his elephant, this time with a seal which balanced a multi-colored ball.

April 21, 1956 — Anita Ekberg was chosen Queen of this year's Desert Circus by co-chairmen Ray Corliss and Jimmy Cooper, and the parade was led by screen star Kirk Douglas as Grand Marshal. The parade took three hours to pass a given spot on Palm Canyon Drive, and the sweepstakes award was won by the Palm Springs Community Church. Theme of the parade was "This is Your Life in the Desert."

MARCH 30, 1957 — The 21st annual Desert Circus carried the theme "Palm Springs Comes of Age" and both a King and Queen were chosen to rule over the 5-day event. The event was co-chairmanned by Sam Janis and Mac McDonald and Ray Ryan was High Sheriff. Randolph Scott was Grand Marshal, and his son, Christopher, rode as Junior Grand Marshal, and the Plaza Theater showed the premier of "The Tall T." There was a Big Top Ball at the Chi Chi, a Kangaroo Court chairmaned by Trav Rogers, ostrich races and a wild animal show.

April 19, 1958 — The Desert Circus Association inaugurated a new theme for the annual celebrations, a salute to a state of the union. The first state picked was Texas, and Palm Springs, filled with Texans, started its 5-day celebration. Ray Ryan and Mac McDonald were co-chairmen of the Circus, Glenn McCarthy, Texas oilman, was High Sheriff and Grand Marshal, and the Texas Governor's brother, Bill Daniels, was in the resort as a special delegate for his brother, Jimmy Van Heusen and Sammy Cahn wrote a special song for the week called "It's 1200 Miles from Palm Springs to Texas" and it was sung by Dean Martin. Records of the song were spread throughout the world. Joan Whitney reigned as Queen, and the Texas flag was raised in honoring ceremonies in The Center, with the Twenty-nine Palms Marine Corp band playing "Palm Springs to Texas."

For the 23rd Desert Circus Palm Springs salutes the State of Colorado, and hundreds of Coloradans will be in Palm Springs for the adventure. Colorado is celebrating its centennial this year, and the Palm Springs celebration ties in with it.
